Chicago, Oct. 10.—A Washington special says the appointment of a successor to Delano has become a dark and weird mystery, one of the deepest that the president had ever succeeded in creating. Certain clues have been traced in the business but nothing but the darkness of conjecture remains. The ten days allowed for the appointment of a successor have expired. There are several cabinet officers here but they have not lisped a word upon the subject and probably for the best of reasons that they know nothing about it. Didn't Lose by Pinney

It having been reported that the National Gold Bank and Trust Co. had lost heavily by fraudulent vouchers of Geo M Pinney, late clerk to Naval Paymaster Spaulding, the president and cashier of the bank state that they have no such vouchers, or any government vouchers or certificates of indebtedness and that it has not lost one dollar by loans on the same or by Pinney individually. The bank has occasionally made loans on army and navy vouchers but all have been paid and the last loan made to Pinney on Spaulding's certificate was paid in full on the 23d of March last. The bank officers assert they had no knowledge of fraudulent vouchers or certificates in connection with the naval office until after Pinney had run away and the newspapers had published the facts.

REPLY OF GEO. W. DIMICK TO THE OPEN LETTER OF REV. E. P. HENDERSON

[illegible], October [illegible], 18[illegible].

To Rev. E. P. Henderson, Oregon City: My Old Friend and Brother: Yours of the 21st in the OREGONIAN has been duly considered and in answer would say I am surprised that after bestowing considerable thought on the subject you should form conclusions that appear to me so erroneous. You say: "I do not see the propriety of throwing away my vote simply to show [illegible] of the temperance [illegible]." Is it possible that this is all there is of the question, simply to show our colors [illegible]? If it is I am ready to withdraw from the contest at once. But permit me, brother, to say that I differ with you in your [illegible]. I do not think this is all or even a part of the real issue.

Now, brother, when I behold the wide-spread ruin and desolation brought upon our country by the legalized traffic in alcoholic liquors and consider my responsibility as a father, a Christian and a citizen, I pause. I hesitate. Permit me, brother, to submit a few facts for your consideration and upon these facts I think we can agree, though we may differ on the remedy for the evil. Let us for a moment look at the extent of the evil we have to deal with, an evil as extensive as the earth, wicked as Satan and as miserable as the unfortunate victims of hell, reaching and containing every class of society and backed by millions of capital in the hands of — — (excuse me, brother, for this blank, please fill it up if you have a name) who have the right of the U. S. government and of the several state governments that they may carry on this traffic, make money and grow rich from the lives of victims and fellow citizens, the happiness of their unfortunate families and the welfare and prosperity of our common country. Come, brother, and look with me at this year's business for which [illegible] a legal [illegible], and for the privilege of carrying it on they have bought the right and paid their money. But behold the army of victims commonly called drunkards, five hundred thousand strong, as they reel and pass before your imagination. Estimate if you can the dreadful misery of these unfortunate victims (fellow citizens), sixty thousand of whom are marched annually to a drunkard's grave and a drunkard's hell, for no drunkard shall inherit the Kingdom of God. Go still farther and behold the million or more of innocent and helpless women and children who are so closely related to these victims of our license system as to be partakers with them in their miseries, 200,000 of whom (says Mr Greeley), are annually marched to the poorhouse and other charitable institutions, and hundreds of thousands more by the awful weight of misery and black despair that falls with crushing hand upon a drunkard's family, sink to premature graves. Now when I consider that all this and much more is but the work of a single year and that it is being repeated year after year I cannot help but say in my soul, brother, that if the licensed traffic in alcoholic liquors and its terrible effects are not wrong, then nothing is or can be wrong in this world.

Now, is there a remedy for all this? I answer: not while the law upholds and sustains the liquor traffic. This awful misery I have tried to describe is but the natural fruits of it. Yes, brother, drunkenness and all the miseries following are but the fruits of our license system, for by their fruits shall ye know them. But there is a remedy. 1st. It is to place the dealer in intoxicating liquors under the condemnation of the law, the same as counterfeiters, incendiaries and other enemies of our country are. 2d. Having shorn our enemies of the respectability which a lawful business gives them and made them outlaws, proceed to build up a right public sentiment against the drinking custom and cause it to be looked upon as theft and other unlawful crimes against the good of society are.

And how are these measures to be obtained? Not by the old parties, for we have been asking to these many years and have received nothing.

Nay, brother, both old parties alike have bowed the suppliant knee to the rum god, and I for one have no faith in them. How then? Simply let those who believe these things to be wrong, organize themselves together in a political party, place their candidate in the field and commence voting their sentiments just as the opponents of human slavery did twenty years ago. But you say the very smallness of the vote cast for [illegible], &c., will be demoralizing. This may be, but I would rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God than to dwell in the tents of wickedness. I would rather stand with even a few honest good men than in a strong party that bows its knee to the rum god.

In your conclusion you say: "If you withdraw you may secure the election of Warren, a true temperance man, and defeat Lane, a dram drinker." Now, with the Democratic party I have no sympathy whatever. I regard it as an enemy to the best interests of our country by upholding this traffic in intoxicating liquors, and its standard bearer (Mr. Lane) as but one of the unfortunate victims of this legalized traffic. Mr Warren, who you say is a true temperance man, stands like Mr Lane the representative of a party that has held control of the government most of the time for 16 years and has refused to do anything for us. While we have been willing to accept local option, nay anything, they have given us nothing; have thrust us aside that they may divide the whisky vote with their Democratic allies. And Mr Warren in this canvass stands upon the platform and becomes an excuser for the government and the legalized traffic by saying the government receives $2,000 [illegible] revenue for whisky and tobacco and intimates that this government could hardly exist were it not for this revenue, thus outstripping Mr. Lane, who is but one of the millions of victims of this awful traffic that Mr Warren thus excuses and defends. These statements are true as you very well know, as you were present at Eugene City and heard it yourself.

Now considering all this and my duty as a father, citizen, and Christian, I cannot withdraw from this contest. But I still hope we may be in the future as we have been in the past, friends, and followers of the meek and lowly Jesus, who went about doing good. And in the great day of accounts when the murdered victims of this legalized traffic are called for, may be found clear from the blood of all these, and finally after having done all the good we can in this world, may we be admitted into that haven prepared for the faithful at the right hand of God, to enjoy its blessings throughout the endless ages of eternity, is the prayer of your true friend, brother in Christ,

G. W. DIMICK,
Temperance Candidate for Congress.

The old dredger which cost Portland some money and Uncle Sam a great deal more, is doing service now at Astoria as a restaurant, moored alongside the roadway at the Farmers' dock.

Business is brisk at Brownsville, and considerable improvements going on. The factory company are building a large new store house in place of the one recently burnt down and a Mr Wilson is building a large two story business house.

Total valuation of property in Benton county as per assessment of 1875, $2,044,337 against $1,402,702 in 1874. Levy for 1875 is 15 mills against 21 mills last year. Amount raised for county purposes last year $18,281 7[illegible] against $11,243 85 this year.

The academy, Marshfield, Coos county is fast approaching completion and looks already quite attractive from its commanding site. The trustees deserve much credit for the energy displayed in not only contributing but collecting funds for this desirable undertaking.

From the Albany Democrat we are informed that a young woman in male attire was parading around the fair ground the early part of the week, but being warned that her disguise was known, and that an officer would nip her, she disappeared, at least in that garb. She was thought to be respectable, but was certainly very foolish.

The Cook brothers, who have been working in the cinnabar mines of Beaver creek, Jackson county all summer have discovered placer mines in that region, in which gold is said to exist in paying quantities. They have taken out $40 a day, though often much less. Work has about been entirely suspended by them, however, owing to the scarcity of water.

On complaint of John Lutz three young men named respectively John Walker, Wm Nash and [illegible] Beauchamp who reside in the vicinity of Aumsville were arrested last week on the charge of larceny by killing and carrying away a cow the property of the complainant. Walker and Nash were held for trial in the sum of $250 each and Beauchamp was held in $100 as a witness.

The county court of Lane county at the adjourned session held Monday, the 4th instant, the following tax levy was made for the year 1875: State and military 6¼ mills; school tax 3 mills; county tax, 5¾ mills; total 15 mills. The levy for county purposes is the same as last year and amounts to $17,000. Deducting $1,000 for delinquents not collected, and $5,100 for expenses of bridge at Eugene City leaves $11,200 for ordinary expenses.

The train of the I. T. R. R., a Coos Bay narrow gauge, ran off the track on the 6th with quite a number of passengers aboard but fortunately none were hurt. The locomotive broke loose and was thrown about fifteen feet from the track; the engineer was thrown some distance. The engine was very promptly reversed and the brakes put down to which action probably some of the passengers owe their lives as it kept the passenger car from being thrown off the track.

S. M. Deniston has returned from the Cabel mine which is situated 32 miles northeast of Canyon City where he has been putting up and starting a quartz mill for F. E. Cabel, the owner of the mine. It is an 8-stamp mill with a crushing capacity of ten tons per day. The ledge is from three to twelve feet in width, and very rich in both gold and silver, the bullion being worth from $8.50 to $1[illegible] per ounce. While Mr Deniston was there Mr Cabel refused an offer of $100,000 for his mine.

Sheriff J. M. Boyd of Baker county recently reached home from Idaho with Bob Douglas who shot and killed H. Walker at Rattlesnake station on the Winnemucca road in that county, August 20, 1874. A few days ago he found his man at Pleasant valley station near the boundary line between Idaho and Montana where he had been but a short time in the employ of the Corinne and Helena Stage Company. He arrested him and took him by stage to Corinne, thence by rail to Winnemucca and by stage to Baker City.

The Baker City Democrat of the 4th inst. says: On last Monday Mr J. W. V[illegible] run a gold and silver brick, worth four dollars to the ounce, weighing 647 ounces, the result of four days run of the Green Discovery mill from rock from Green's ledge in Rye valley. There is plenty more rock there of the same sort. The mill will be kept running [illegible] and will be kept constantly at work pounding out the precious metals. Both the Green Discovery and the Mountain Queen ledges are developing very rich. The future of the Rye valley mines from present indications are very bright.

LINN COUNTY FAIR

ALBANY, Oct. 9, 1875.

The fair came to a close as predicted, last evening. It was a mistake to hold the fair more than four days as everybody aside from those who came from abroad in vehicles, desired to pack up and leave before noon on Saturday after which time there was no chance to get away by the train until early Monday morning.

THE WORK OF CLOSING UP

Began by the appointment of committees to judge of the merits of the various articles exhibited in the pavilion, and the little outside of that department, if we may except S. G. Reed's stock, spoken of frequently by your numerous correspondents. By 2 o'clock the various committees had made their examinations and the blue and red ribbons at that hour were to be seen attached to the best exhibits.

At noon the stock was allowed the freedom of the enclosure, set apart for such purposes, and those who cared to cast an eye over the display had an opportunity to see all the animals free within a brief time. About the same hour the

PLOWING CONTEST

Came off but few taking an interest in the doings of either competitor outside of a few farmers and the parties immediately interested. The judges gave no premium, but announced that "special mention" be made of the plow exhibited by W. H. Dodd & Co.

The only publicly announced

TRIAL OF SPEED

Was that in which William Gird entered b. h. Bill Gird and Geo. Hughes entered b. h. "Buffalo Bill." The race was to be for $250—$165 to the first, balance to second. Best two in three miles heats running. Gird had the inside from the start and kept it right along, gradually increasing the gap. He came to finish in 2:1[illegible]. Buffalo Bill being distanced, therefore counted out and as a consequence the race came to an end in the one heat. Gird being the declared winner of the purse with a mighty poor showing for it. This was the last of the races aside from a number of

SCRUB RACES

Which were of greater interest than those that preceded them, as the boys went in "for blood" and had no time to figure out rules or think of "putting up a job." About one o'clock the

ALBANY FIRE COMPANY

With over fifty men in full uniform, on the ropes appeared at the entrance gate, the local band heading the procession. After the race spoken of above, the order was given by the popular Joe Webber to "man the brakes" and with a hundred feet of hose, they sent a stream 180 feet. The boys were ordered through the various movements, at the conclusion of which they were invited to Rockwell & Hubbard's tent, there to witness the excellent exhibition given by Prof Rockwell. The silver trumpet was delivered to the President of the company, Hon. Mart V. Brown, who will have the proper inscription engraved upon it. The company desired to greet other companies and up to the last moment looked forward to the arrival of Tiger company from Portland. In the evening they gave a ball at Concert hall, which was largely attended. By 6 o'clock the fair grounds were pretty nigh deserted, only a few remaining to pack up and move.

THE RECEIPTS,

A trifle over $1,000, indicated that little stock was taken in the "tenth annual fair," and, judging from the feeling so universally expressed by the residents of the county, and those in attendance from abroad, the prospect for another fair at this point is not encouraging by any means. The management must undergo a change, and the sooner it is effected the better for the society and the Linn county fairs of the future. There are many excellent gentlemen on the board of directors, but the clique of turf men hereabouts wield such an influence that the general interests of the people are entirely overlooked. This is not the only reason for the loss of patronage to the fair. The state fair being close at hand, many will reserve their means and exhibits to throw into that which covers all, and where the general public can find a much more satisfactory exhibition of the products of the state.

While the late fair has not been successful, the people of the county may justly feel proud of that section of the country which produces so well—evidences of which may be seen in the many warehouses in the town of Albany. In the past two years this beautiful place has grown wonderfully and its future is assured. On every hand we see dwellings, stores, churches and other buildings in course of construction or approaching completion.

THE SANTIAM DITCH

Is the great enterprise that has helped along Albany for the past two years and the benefits are being taken advantage of. No less than a dozen establishments tap the ditch for water-power, including Brown & Stewart, of the Democrat and Granger office who, as well as others, appreciate it highly.

The vast warehouses are packed with wheat, oats and other cereals, which await a change in the market for the better to warrant a movement. The opening of the river will do much to hasten the event which will let out the grain and in a brief time, make a return.

PORTLANDERS.

Quite a number of former residents of the metropolis have settled here, among whom are to be observed Dr. O. P. S. Plummer, J. B. Wyatt, Jacob Fleischner, Winfield Peters, Tileston & Scott, gunsmiths, and a host of others whom I cannot recall at present. The merchants notwithstanding the lack of coin among the farmers appear to be doing well. There is one thing about Albany that everybody can appreciate and that is the pumps on the thoroughfares where the thirsty can draw

COLD CLEAR WATER

Which is certainly a great luxury to the stranger, particularly to one who has been obliged to indulge in the miserable article provided at the metropolis.

MONDAY MORNING OCTOBER 11 1875

THE GOVERNMENT OF ALASKA

For some time past the Evening Journal has been engaged in exposing what it calls "The Despotism of the North" by what is meant the military government of Alaska If the statements of the Journal are reliable, a very deplorable state of affairs exists up in that region It is stated that men, and even children, have been arrested on the authority of the military commander, on false charges supported sometimes by the flimsiest of evidence and sometimes by no evidence at all and imprisoned at hard labor in the same manner as military prisoners under conviction of crimes. These statements are backed with affidavits of various persons which certainly seem to make out a case as the lawyers say But the affidavits so far as yet published, purport to have been made by Russians who became American citizens under the treaty of cession The translation of the Russians' verbal statements, and the putting them down on paper, would naturally be a very delicate matter, when a slight variation of the meaning of a word might make a great wrong of that which was merely the exercise of rightful authority in the execution of the laws, and the maker of the affidavit might thus swear to something in a language with which he was unacquainted, which he would be far from willing to swear to if he fully understood the import and force of the words employed Or, if the affidavits were originally made in the Russian language, there may be occasion for allowance in the Journal's rendering of them There is intrinsic evidence in the phraseology and general tone of the affidavits, of such a spirit as, to say the very least, would justify the inference that the facts are stated as strongly as possible. The circumstances are highly colored, if not exaggerated. Still, make all due allowance for defects of translation, and even for coloring up the story there seems no room to doubt that there have been abuses of power by the military commanders at Sitka From other sources we have information substantiating the charges so far as the fact of the arrest of various parties, and their being put to labor as prisoners, is concerned, and this—the putting them to labor—is an abuse of authority which ought not to pass unnoticed

The ground of these arrests appears to have been violations or alleged violations of the laws respecting the traffic in spirituous liquors. Alaska has not the machinery of civil government Congress has seen fit, and wisely too, to place the preliminary steps in the enforcement of the laws—that is the arresting of persons who violate the laws in that country—in the hands of the military, instead of launching on the boundless sea of expense of a territorial government. The military authorities have the right to arrest persons who engage in illicit traffic in spirituous liquors, but they have no right to treat persons so arrested as convicts or as prisoners confined under the army regulations. Their duties in this respect are those of civil officers. They can not punish civilians for offenses against the laws of commerce and intercourse with the Indians, they can do nothing more than apprehend them, and convey them to the place for trial by the civil courts. When they go beyond this, they go beyond their authority The training of military life does not impart the clearest views of civil rights, and it is to be presumed that whatever abuses have occurred have resulted from misapprehension on the part of the officers, but that does not relieve the transaction from its character of an invasion of the rights of the citizen

The government has not invited people generally to go to Alaska and if they do not like to be deprived of the amenities of civil government, they can stay away But, on the other hand, there is no legal prohibition to anybody's going there who chooses to do so, and such as do go, as well as those natives who became citizens by the treaty, are entitled to the immunities of citizenship, and when the military are entrusted with the functions of civil officers over those citizens, they should be careful to keep within the limits of their civil duties

THE GREAT SECRET

The people of the United States, we take it, have no legal right to insist upon being advised what person the President has selected for appointment to an office at his disposal till he sees fit to advise them. But it is positively cruel to keep all the quidnuncs in suspense, when the selection of the person to fill the place lately made vacant by the retirement of Delano is no longer in abeyance and there is consequently no visible reason why his name should be kept secret The fortunate man, whose picture is destined in due time to go to the walls of the interior department has already been found, and it is announced that he will enter upon the duties of the office to-day and yet it would be "a violation of confidence" for members of the cabinet to let anybody know who he is No one will pretend that those who have been let into this tremendous secret are not doing the honorable thing when they decline to share the confidence reposed in them with the public, but what in the world there is about the matter to call for secrecy at this stage of the game is something past comprehension There is certainly no danger of a riot over the selection A people that have borne Delano without hostile demonstrations is not going to resort to extreme measures over the choice of a successor to him [illegible] there any grave exigencies of state, so far as we can perceive, requiring the unusual course adopted in this matter [illegible] we can imagine nothing to make this tantalizing secrecy necessary unless possibly some of the Dents and Corbins are working up some bets as to the name of the appointee, or something of that sort

WHY ENGLAND IS WEALTHY

England is a manufacturing country No raw material is shipped from her ports Nor does she produce the material to be worked up in her own factories She buys raw material abroad and works it up She buys the food of her operatives abroad and pays the freight on it across the seas. And yet she is rich The countries that sell cotton and wool and breadstuff to England are not her creditors, but her debtors When they want money to build railways to develop mines they borrow it from England, provided they can show satisfactory collaterals How is it that the countries that produce the raw material and sell it to England have less money than she? It is because the labor bestowed upon the material by the manufacturer exceeds in value the material in its natural state It is because vastly the largest proportion of what the consumers pay for the goods they buy is paid for the labor that prepares it for use It is but fair to take a familiar article for illustration of the $20 you pay for a common coat one dollar goes for the material in its natural state and nineteen for making it [illegible] out The manufacturing countries will always be the countries to which the money will flow And since the consumption of manufactured goods continually increases the relative advantages in favor of manufacturing countries must become greater This fact lies at the bottom of any sound system of political economy The first condition of prosperity in any country is the building up of its manufacturing interests

The State Fair begins to-day From the preparations that have been made and the general interest in this annual gathering of the farmers the prospect is that this fair will surpass any that has been held heretofore The managers deserve great credit for the efforts they have made to make this annual gathering all that it should be as an opportunity of comparing the products of industry and a week of social enjoyment after the heat and burden of the summer This is the great Harvest Home holiday of the people may they enjoy it to the very fullest extent of their anticipations!

The Indianola (Texas) Relief Committee seem to have done thorough and efficient work, getting a large part of their sufferers off to where they can start in again for themselves and finding remunerative employment for those who remain Such a calamity as that which befell the unfortunate town of Indianola has never before been known in the history of this country, and it is grateful intelligence that the end of actual suffering in consequence has come so soon It speaks well for the energy and spirit of the people of the town as well as for the relief committee

The Massachusetts Republican state convention was such a body for numbers as would make trading and bargaining impossible There were present about twelve hundred members Among these were many of the old time leaders of the party Ben Butler had been chosen a delegate, but he neither went to the convention nor sent a proxy. Last fall, when he was beaten for congress, he declared his intention to retire from politics and it is presumed that his absence from the convention indicates that he has not abandoned that intention

The stale falsehood that Warren took an oath more than twenty years ago that he was a native-born citizen of the United States is repeated from day to day as if its falsity had not been proved from the lips of those who uttered it. It will not cost Warren a vote It may make votes for him by disgusting fair minded people with the utter want of candor and conscience in the style of opposition he has to meet

Some of the papers are agitating the subject of a reciprocity treaty with Mexico It is difficult to perceive what more reciprocity is needed than now exists between the two republics Their citizens have been reciprocally engaged for some years in robbing and murdering each other all along the border without the semblance of legal restraint

A gentleman who claims to know something of public sentiment in Marion county says Warren will get a considerable number of Democratic votes in that county We hear of Democrats in various counties declaring their intention to vote for Warren

The vote by which the rule requiring the reading of the Bible in the public schools of Chicago was repealed stood ayes 10 noes none. The board consists of 15 members five of whom were absent when the vote was taken

The Sacramento Record Union has come to the conclusion that the time is ripe for the organization of a new national party to supplant both the Republican and the Democratic organizations.

FATALLY SHOT BY ACCIDENT.—Saturday morning about 9 o'clock a colored boot black named Emery Rogers who has kept for several months a stand near Fliedner's barber shop, on First street accidentally shot himself while handling a pistol from the effects of which he died some hours afterward. Rogers had [illegible] the pistol—it was four barrelled and one of Sharpe's manufacture—from the [illegible] and was engaged in extracting the [illegible] from one of the barrels when the fatal [illegible] happened. The weapon was quite [illegible], not having been used for sometime and consequently Rogers experienced considerable difficulty in drawing out the charge. While thus [illegible], the cartridge exploded, the bullet crashing through the bones of the unfortunate man's face as the muzzle of the pistol happened unluckily to be pointed [illegible] his head at the moment of the explosion. The ball took effect just below [illegible] nose, tearing away several of his teeth [illegible] through the roof of his mouth upward and backward and lodged [illegible] the base of the brain. Notwithstanding [illegible] and shock, the wounded man dropped [illegible] and cooly walked out to the edge of the sidewalk. The wound began to bleed profusely, and Rogers soon grew faint [illegible] to the pavement. Meantime a crowd [illegible] collected about the spot and after assisting [illegible] man to the edge of the sidewalk [illegible] was summoned. Failing to return at the [illegible], his absence aroused suspicions [illegible] of the new agent, who proceeded to examine the books and papers. A [illegible] revealed the startling fact [illegible] had appropriated about $375 [illegible] his books failed to account for. It was ascertained [illegible] had gone toward the [illegible] authorities there were notified [illegible] for him. This information [illegible] arrest as above stated. [illegible] SERVICE.—The Song Service given by [illegible] McGibeny last evening at Oro Fino [illegible] drew a great audience many being [illegible] to stand during the entire hour. Al[illegible] the audience was earnestly requested [illegible] from applause, several of the selections were of so pleasing a character as to compel [illegible]. BRIEF NOTES

State Fair opens to-day.

Fourteen divorce cases are on the state circuit court calendar.

U S circuit court will convene this morning at the usual hour.

Judge Adams will have a full matinee this morning at police court.

The present outlook for fine weather during State Fair week is very flattering.

On Tuesday of last week the cash receipts of fines imposed in the police court aggregated $50—a good day's showing.

Among the passengers on board the Oriflamme, due here to-morrow evening we observe the names of Dr J H Hatch and wife.

Some of the hoodlums of East Portland feasted one day last week upon Chinese delicacies placed upon the grave of departed celestials by the living.

Jurors summoned to attend the present term of the state circuit court are required to be in attendance this morning at 9 o'clock on the convening of the court.

Thursday evening of last week Rev Mr Chattin and Messrs E J Northrup and McCrum of the Y M C A went to Marshfield to join in a meeting there.

Rev I Dillon D D and his family have removed to the M E church parsonage in East Portland. Dr Dillon, besides editing the Pacific Christian Advocate, will have charge of the church in East Portland.

Saturday being the Day of Atonement and one of the sacred days in the Hebrew calendar all the places of business kept by citizens of the Jewish faith were kept closed in religious observance of the event.

It is seldom that two musicians take part in the same orchestra whose united ages are seventy six years and the difference between their ages seventy years; yet that phenomenon occurred at the Song Service last evening. Mr Powers being seventy three and little Allie three, yet the old man's heart seemed as young as the child's.

Mr Truman P Powers, of Astoria, now in his seventy-third year, did excellent service as cello player at the Song Service last evening. He is a veteran in the musical art having taught the first singing class ever organized in Oregon (1846) and has been singing and playing ever since. He is on his way to the State Fair, where he is to assist at the meetings of the Y M C A.

AMUSEMENTS.

Saturday evening the new dramatic company under the management of Mrs Phelps appeared at New Market Theater. There was present a very fair audience. Buckstone's beautiful drama entitled "Miami or the Huntress of the Mississippi," was selected as the opening piece. Miss Zoe Gayton a new face to this public, personated the dual characters of "Miami and Mme St Aubert." She sustained the role quite acceptably, although we do not hesitate to say that we have seen the character interpreted in a much superior manner by other actresses. With a good form—a shade too petite—and a pleasant face, Miss Gayton creates a favorable impression, and possesses a fair stage presence. Her acting would be far more effective, and, we might say, artistic, if she would cease to strive after intense dramatic effect, ignore certain mannerisms and endeavor to be more natural. However we may judge the little lady's acting by a too severe measure of criticism. She may far surpass this her first endeavor before a Portland audience in future efforts, and add greatly to the favorable impression already created. James A Herne, an actor whose talents are too well known here to require any comment, assumed the character of "Wild Murtough" and right capitally, too. L T Howard, a new face personated "Geo O'Kennedy" very passably and Mr James O Barrows that of the exiled brother "Connor O'Kennedy." "Geraldine," was represented by May Wilkes, a lady who is possessed of a very sweet and musical voice and who acted the allotted part quite to the satisfaction of the audience. Mrs Phelps played "Nellie O'Neil," the faithful and warm hearted Irish girl, while little "Meg" found a fitting representative in Stella Rice. The remainder of the cast was rendered very passably. But it was left for the roaring farce of "Slasher and Crasher" to convulse the audience with laughter and send everybody home with their sides aching. It is a capital farce and was capitally rendered. This morning the troupe will leave for Salem and will give nightly performances during the week at Reed's opera house.

CONVOCATION

Second Day.

After morning prayer at 9 A M business was resumed. The minutes of yesterday's proceedings having been read amended and approved, the following additional lay delegates were admitted: John D Blomfield, Dr A M Belt, George Babcock and Dr R Glisan.

On motion of Rev Mr Hyland it was

Resolved, That the many tribes of Indians in our North Pacific possessions demand our sympathy and interest and that we of their death for evangelization we present their claims to the Indian commission of the church in the hope that it will take action in their behalf.

On motion of Rev Mr Bonnell the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, This convocation [illegible] with great interest from Rev Messrs Hyland and Burton concerning the desire of Indians in [illegible] the gospel

Be it resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to obtain full information in the matter in view of informing the general Church [illegible] stimulating efforts for carrying the gospel to those Indians.

Rev Messrs Hyland, Rosenberg and Burton were appointed said committee.

The secretary read his report of missionary convocations as follows:

The secretary begs leave to report that in consequence of the bishop's absence in the East no missionary convocation has been held during the past year. These gatherings the secretary thinks are of no little interest and profit to all concerned and he hopes that there may be several during the coming year. Respectfully submitted,

JOHN W SELLWOOD Sec

The committee on the Oregon Churchman reported. The paper has been published regularly during the past year. There are now 475 subscribers about one-fourth only of whom have paid for the current year and many of whom are owing for two or more years. The difficulty of procuring and collecting subscriptions is the greatest hindrance to the prosperity of the paper. This hindrance the committee think would be overcome if the lay delegates to the convocation would take charge of its interests. In this view the committee offers the following:

Resolved, That the lay delegates of this convocation be requested to act with their clergymen in selecting agents for obtaining and collecting subscriptions to the Oregon Churchman.

The report and its accompanying resolution were adopted.

The committee on the state of the church reported.

A resolution of thanks to the various railroad and steamboat companies for favors in transportation was adopted.

On motion 500 copies of the journal were ordered to be printed and assessments to be made by the secretary for the expense of the same.

After devotions and the benediction by the bishop the convocation adjourned sine die.

SERVICES AT TRINITY CHURCH

There was a large congregation at Trinity church yesterday morning filling the spacious edifice, and joining devoutly and heartily in the worship. The bishop and fourteen of the other clergy were in the chancel. The sermon was by Rev C R Bonnell of Seattle, his text being Psalms cx 3. A large number of communicants partook of the Lord's Supper and the offerings which were very liberal were appropriated to defray expenses of the convocation.

In the evening a missionary service was held and addresses were made by the bishop and several of the clergy who are engaged in missionary work in various parts of the jurisdiction. These addresses were of great interest and importance and evidently enjoyed by the congregation. The offerings were given to diocesan missions. This was the last of the many profitable and delightful services that have been held during the session of the convocation. Those who have attended them have received great profit and pleasure and will appreciate the benefit which the faithful laborers in the Episcopal church are trying to accomplish in our part of the country.

ST STEPHEN'S CHAPEL

The choral services in this chapel so beautifully lighted through its richly colored windows was attended yesterday afternoon by a large delegation, composed of the clergy who were at the convocation and our citizens. It was a service of song reverently rendered and enjoyed by many devout hearts. The effect of such services as this must be the desireable one of increasing the solemnity and reverence of public worship. We remind our readers that it is held every Sunday at 3 30 P M.

NO TICK THERE.—While waiting at the depot yesterday, a gentleman whose watch was out of order applied to a dashing young colored man to know the time of day—the young colored man having a great watch chain dancing across his breast.

De time sah, de time ob day? replied the young man.

Yes. I want to know how near train time it is.

Well boss, said the darkey slowly pulling at the chain, I can't give yo de time ob day exactly but I se got some ob de bistest kind o chewing tobacco in dis yere watch case.—Vicksburg Herald

GEN. JOHN MORGAN AGAIN.

A gentleman residing in Eugene City, who signs himself "An Ex Officer of the 13th Tenn Cavalry," sends the following communication in relation to General John Morgan the noted rebel guerrilla:

In your issue of this date I notice an article "General John Morgan &c" claiming he died at the Cascades not long since. Now some person has tried a clever hoax on "ye local." General John H Morgan was killed in Greenville Tennessee while attempting to escape from Mrs Williams house at a stile at the fence in September 1864 by Sergeant Campbell of the 13th Tennessee volunteer cavalry in the immediate command of Lieutenant Colonel Ingerton and not by a home guard as stated. General A C Gillem (of Modoc fame) was commanding the brigade or division (I have forgotten which) and at Lick Creek some eighteen miles below Greenville. When he found out the fact he telegraphed the secretary of war (so the papers reported) "I have met fought and killed General John H Morgan." (Signed Gillem). I know all the parties by sight or from service in the army with them. I also was partially acquainted with members of Morgan's staff particularly with Major Clay. I have heard Mrs Williams tell of the affair heard it from many of those engaged on both sides. Gen Morgan was interred at Abingdon Va about the 7th of September 1864. Having seen Gen Morgan and just being captured and confined at Abingdon Va the day before and saw the funeral procession and Mrs Morgan I am so confident that he was killed and interred it will take the evidence of the mother of the general to alter my conviction. I also conversed with Col Bazel Duke about his death and if any one would be apt to know it was the brave Colonel Duke as he was known in both armies. An officer lives in Brownsville Oregon who was with me a prisoner at Abingdon Va. Several ex soldiers of both commands were at Greenville at the time and know the false information given to your local now live in Oregon. The 13th Tennessee cavalry were regularly mustered into the service and the only Federal soldiers there. Col Ingerston was a 1st lieutenant in the United States army and lieutenant colonel of volunteers.

FIRES

Samuel Hall lost a considerable amount of fencing and straw on his farm on Applegate recently, by fire communicating with it from stubble he was burning off his field.

The Jacksonville Times says: A dastardly attempt to burn the fencing around Senator Harris's farm was made last Sunday evening. The brush adjoining the fence was burning quite lively and some of the rails had already caught fire when J J G [illegible] fortunately arrived at the scene and with the assistance of Samuel Colver extinguished it saving a large amount of fencing and timber besides averting other damage that may have been done.

On last Sunday week the residence of Mr J Kelley across the river east of Baker City was discovered to be on fire the alarm was immediately given and the citizens rushed in a body to the scene of the conflagration. The family had gone to church in the city and, before anything could be done the doors had to be bursted open. The fire had made such headway before buckets etc arrived that it was found impossible to save the building. The most of the furniture clothing etc, of the family were saved. Loss of building and other articles amount to some $800 or $1,000.

MORE THAN ALL.

Give fools their gold and knaves their power
Let fortune's bubbles rise and fall
Who sows a field or trains a flower
Or plants a tree, is more than all

For he who blesses most is blest
And God and man shall have his worth
Who toils to leave as a bequest
An added beauty to the earth

And soon or late to all who sow
The time of harvest shall be given
The flowers shall bloom the fruit shall grow —
If not on earth at least in Heaven
J. G. Whittier

SELECTED MISCELLANY

Wisdom is oftentimes nearer when we stoop than when we soar

We govern our passions but in general we let the passions first have a trial

It should not discourage us if our kindness is unacknowledged It has its influence still

Patience and cheerfulness adorn the ruins of fortune, as ivy does those of castles and temples

Idleness is the great slough into which the vices of the world drift and settle to rise again in miasms.

Rabelais had written some sensible pieces which the world did not regard at all "I will write something" said he "that they shall take notice of" And so he sat down to writing nonsense.

A church member whose conduct was not always in the right being urged to a certain thing replied "I can't in all conscience." To which a brother said "The next time you find your conscience I hope that you will put a mark upon it that you may be able to distinguish it from your will"

We must not hope to be mowers
And to gather the ripe gold ears
Unless we have first been sowers
And watered the furrows with tears

It is not just as we take it
This mystical world of ours
Life's field will yield, as we make it
A harvest of thorns or flowers

Luxury and indolence are the well known concomitants of a torrid atmosphere and an exuberant soil If in our northern and wintry climate we are strangers to the rich profusion of a southern soil we have the consolation that this climate while it yields us but a scanty harvest for a laborious cultivation yields us at the same time a blessing for which there can be no equivalent—the capacity of enjoyment that results from vigor of body and activity of mind —Jacob Bigelow, M. D

SOUND COMMON SENSE.—If you are well let yourself alone One of the great errors of the age is we medicate the body too much More persons are destroyed by eating too much than by drinking too much Gluttony kills more than drunkenness in civilized society The best gymnasium is a woodyard a clearing or a cornfield. A hearty laugh is known the world over, to be a health promoter It elevates the spirits, enlivens the circulation, and is marvelously contagious in a good sense. Bodily activity and bodily health are inseparable If the bowels are [illegible] lie down in bed, remain there and eat nothing until you are well. The three best medicines in the world are warmth, abstinence and repose.

Although we might hardly denominate the condition of the local money market one of stringency, it [illegible] closely, and very perceptibly affects the activity which is otherwise expected in trade [illegible] at this period in the season Outside [illegible] are in the market offering considerable [illegible] and rates are reported quiet at the [illegible] The combined capital paid up and [illegible] deposits of the several commercial banks of San Francisco amount to upwards of [illegible] million dollars. Besides these are several private bankers who do a large business and the [illegible] banks represent over sixty millions [illegible] the aggregate paid up banking capital is [illegible] fully one hundred and twenty-six millions [illegible]

The [illegible] at the Philadelphia Mint for September is given at $1,385,372. Added to the coinage of the Carson and San Francisco Mints, we have a total of [illegible] for September.

The shipments of treasure from New York continue light For the week ending on the 25th ult. the amount was $280,900. The total for the first twenty-five days in September was less than $1,000,000. From January 1st to September 25th the specie and bullion shipped from New York amounted to $44,873,000 against an average of $42,000,000 for the same time in the previous two years and $37,600,000 in 1872. The imports of specie at New York for the week ending on the 25th ult. were almost as large as the exports, aggregating $216,400, including $121,000 gold coin from Bremen. Further invoices of gold coin are now on the way from Europe including $375,000 drawn from a London bank yesterday. The imports of treasure at New York since January 1st aggregate $8,800,000 which is 100 per cent more than the average for the previous three years.

Foreign Wheat Markets.

Beerbohm's London Corn Trade List of the 10th ult, says "the imports of wheat into the United Kingdom in the week ended 21st August were larger than in any previous week during the past cereal year, but that quantity has since then been even surpassed in the week ending the 4th September, the imports in this latter week being probably amongst the largest that have ever taken place in this country The granaries in London and in various other ports have thus been filled after a long period of exhaustion, when it is added that a fair quantity of wheat remains at ports of call and on passage from ports of call to ports of discharge, it will now appear less surprising that the market should not have been able to withstand the combined effect of all these supplies and of the continued fine weather According to the present appearances, some further depression may even possibly occur for the time as the expected further supplies although on a diminished scale are liberal. There might be little cause for confidence in any rally if our own crop were the only deficient one, instead of the crops in most of the other European countries being likewise more or less deficient. In Russia this finally appears to be particularly the case according to the advices lately received from that quarter the crop is said not only to be very short but so inferior that much higher prices are paid for old wheat than for new It is believed that the present reduced prices in England will cause the shipments from Russia to be greatly restricted From Galatz the last advices mention that the quality of the new wheat proved wretchedly bad and out of condition, and that the demand was falling entirely on old wheat of which there was still some quantity left. The exporting capacity of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy is also stated to be decidedly less than usual There would appear to be no great deficiency in the total result in the states on the Atlantic slope of North America. The exports from California during the current cereal year have been very variously estimated but it appears at least certain that they will be considerably smaller than in the past season."

The Wheat Market

Is exhibiting a fair degree of activity and the receipts of the past week show an increase over any previous week for the season and an unusually large quantity is in store in the various warehouses here as well as in the interior of the state. Quotations have quite a wide range just now and are apparently governed as much by the wants of buyers as by any other circumstance The latest Liverpool telegrams of which we are advised note a decline equivalent to the rise reported a few days ago The report, however, has not affected our home market and transactions are reported as taking place at points up the valley at a figure which would be equivalent to at least $1 7 per cental here A large number of the farmers will devote the coming week to the state fair and after that event is past, those who are compelled to sell will be in a hurry to place their grain in the market before the rainy season shall set in so that the week following will probably be one of increased activity in this department of trade

SEATTLE Homestead Association.

A Rare Chance for Profitable Investment.

IN CONSEQUENCE OF THE RAPIDLY ACCUMULATING interests and greatly increasing population property in the city of Seattle is held at prices regarded as extravagant and in order to meet the demand for property of small means seeking homes, the SEATTLE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION has been organized composed of some of the most responsible men of that section Tracts of land in the city and extending to the borders of Lake Washington, have been secured surveyed and platted and 3000 lots 60 feet by 120 feet each have been placed on the market for distribution and are now offered for the small sum of $75 for each lot, payable monthly in six installments without interest. A lot is thus placed within the reach of every one who may desire to purchase.

In 1868 Seattle had a population of only 700 now 3,000 A large number are daily seeking settlements and find great difficulty in procuring them though buildings are going up in all directions the demand is still for more The city of Seattle is beautifully situated on Elliott Bay, Puget Sound It has fine natural advantages and great resources with a most promising future The three Coal Deposits now being worked with insufficient facilities by three different companies called respectively the "Seattle, Renton and Talbot, are producing 600 tons of Coal daily, which does not supply the demand. The manufacture of lumber is also an important and profitable business. Ship building is an active industry with other mechanical and useful occupations encouraging to the investment of capital and labor Two opposing lines of steamships direct to San Francisco, afford annual facilities for freight and passage every week Seattle is destined to be the Pittsburgh of the Pacific Coast Her material resources are inexhaustible. Her Iron Coal and Timber the three great commercial staples alone will make capital tributary to her interests. The valleys of the White, Black and Cedar rivers, tributaries of the Duwamish river which empties into the harbor of Seattle will support a large agricultural population

Lake Washington, 20 miles in length and from 2 to 5 miles wide, is about two miles in a direct line from the waters of the sound It is the intention of the incorporators of this Association whose standing in community is a guaranty of square dealing to open immediately an Avenue 80 feet wide extending from the bay directly east through the Homestead lands to Lake Washington in which charming locality will be erected the mansions of her business men The Avenue will be properly graded paved and sidewalks laid at an expense of $15 000 and will constitute the chief drive and promenade from Seattle to the Lake It will run along the City Park the College grounds and Lake View Park Lots on either side will command at least four fold the price paid The Association will erect buildings for a First Class Hotel at the east end of the Avenue on Lake Washington Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the Company

When all the lots are subscribed for the distribution will be made The Choice of Lots, including the Hotel will be sold at public auction among the subscribers and the proceeds be divided equally among them Due notice of the time and place of sale will be made Warrantee deeds based on a United States patent will be issued to subscribers without charge.

Let no one doubt the future growth of Seattle Nature has placed her in a position to realize the benefits of an immense traffic Her port is always open; neither ice nor shifting sand bars impede navigation No pilotage or river towage to add to her freights. Clear sailing all the year round from her harbor to the ocean Consider the matter carefully Think too what San Francisco was in 1849 what chances of a competency were lost in ignoring the future growth of that magnificent city as thousands can attest. Chicago in 1840 was but a small town to-day a great city the admiration of all Let not this opportunity slip The small sum of $75, payable monthly without interest, may make you comfortable and be a great benefit to your children There can be no other investment requiring so small an amount of money that can secure such ample benefits
